Radia® Physicians Named “Top Doctors”

Six Radia Physicians Selected as Among Seattle’s Best by Seattle Metropolitan Magazine

Everett, WA - August 4, 2009 —Today Radia, Inc. announced six of their physicians, who are affiliated with the Providence Regional Medical Center Everett (PRMCE), have been awarded with “Golden Stethoscope Awards” and recognized as “Top Docs” in the August 2009 issue of the Seattle Metropolitan Magazine.

Seattle Metropolitan’s annual “Top Doc” results are based on a large survey of Puget Sound medical professionals that asks respondents to select providers in multiple specialty areas that the medical providers themselves would seek out for their own care or recommend to their loved ones.

The Radia physicians and their specialties that were selected the most by their professional colleagues include:

Maria Chong, M.D.	Diagnostic Radiology
Jay Cook, M.D.	Vascular Surgery
John Overbeck, M.D.	Diagnostic Radiology
Mark Papenhausen, M.D.	Vascular Surgery
Scott Vanderheiden, M.D.	Diagnostic Radiology
Ying Wang, M.D.,	Diagnostic Radiology

Dave Brooks, CEO, PRMCE, states, “Radia physicians are an integral part of the entire Providence Regional physician team and the patients that choose Providence Regional Medical Center Everett can be confident that they will receive the best quality care possible, right here”.

“Radia physicians, year after year, continue to be selected as “Top Docs” says Rich Satre, M.D., President of Radia, “because Radia’s overall mission is to provide referring providers and the patients that we serve the most technologically advanced and high quality patient care possible”.
